

Welsh Field Rankings 2008

The Welsh ranking system is based on a points system as used in the GNAS system. To qualify for Welsh rankings four (4) scores from any GNAS competition shot in Wales during the year will be used, as well as the All British (wherever it is held). An archer completing more than four will only have their four best finishing positions taken into account. Points will be awarded according to finishing positions in each two day tournament: i.e. 1 for 1st, 2 for 2nd, 3 for 3rd etc. after the final shoot the archer with the lowest number of points will be in first place and so on. Only one score from each venue can count (except British)

In the event of a tied position, the FLO will look first, at the single day scores of archers who shoot the first day then retire or do not submit a score for the second day, then at the events in which archers competed against each other.
